

Residential and Homestays EFL Teacher

Location:

United Kingdom: Nottingham, Milton Keynes, Peterborough, London, Liverpool

Ireland: Mallow

France: Saint-Cyran-du-Jambot

Job Type: Seasonal

About Us: For over 50 years we have run English language and activity programmes for young overseas students. Anglophiles Academic is a well-established, private educational company founded in 1973 with a reputation for quality and professionalism. We run English Language courses and activity programmes for overseas students. Students are aged mainly between 11 to 17 years old.

Job Description: We are currently seeking qualified and enthusiastic EFL Teacher's for our Residential and Homestay programmes. The ideal candidate will have a passion for language education, and a desire to create an immersive English learning experience for students in both residential and homestay settings.

Full board accommodation is provided if required.

All successful candidates must attend an online briefing, which will be held approximately two to three weeks before the start of each course.

Roles and Responsibilities:

- Collaborate with other Anglophiles staff, including Local Organizers and Group Leaders on-site.
- Administer English language tests on the first day and adjust student placements based on provisional class lists.
- If working full-time, accompany and supervise students during excursions, breaks, and ensure their safe return to host family homes.
- Prepare students for excursions and provide a course summary on the last teaching day.
- Ensure discipline, safety, and student well-being, reporting any issues to Anglophiles Head Office.
- Complete required reports promptly, including Daily Report Sheets, End of Course Summary Report, and individual Student Reports.

Collaboration:

- Work closely with residential staff and homestay local organisers and leaders to ensure a seamless learning experience.
- Collaborate with colleagues to share best practices and enhance the overall language education programme.

Qualifications:

- 1: Bachelor's degree in English, Education, or a related field.
- 2: TEFL, TESOL or CELTA certification.
- 3: Experience is preferred but not mandatory for this position.
- 4: Enhanced DBS disclosure is essential, willingness to purchase one, if you are not subscribed to the update service.

Salary:

Salary is dependent on experience and length of the contract.

Please contact recruitment@anglophiles.com